Old-Timer Passes Away U. F. A. District Convention

Following a complication of ailments largely due to old age, Joseph McPherson, one of Calgary's oldest old timers passed away Sunday at the Holy Cross hospital at the age of 78.

Coming to Alberta from Hamilton, Ont., in 1883, Mr. McPherson settled at a spot about six miles southeast of the city, in what is now the Spring bank district. Mr. McPherson came as far as Maple Creek by the railway, but this was at that time the end of the steel, and from Maple Creek he walked to the spot where he settled. He lived at this spot, being engaged in farming and ranching, till the time of his death.

Mrs. McPherson died some years ago but he is survived by three sons and four daughters, Hugh McPherson, manager of the West End Livery, Calgary; James A. and Robert, who farm at the homestead, Mrs. Monty, of Consort, Ont.; Mrs. Nolan, of Waterton, Alta.; Mrs. Joseph Robertson, of Elbow River, P. O. Alta.; and Mrs. Wm. Moffatt, M. P. P. and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Vanhoon attended from this town.

A district convention of the U. F. A. will be held at the town hall in Montreal on Saturday, November 22nd, beginning at 10 o'clock. In Holy Cross hospital at the age of 78. Coming to Alberta from Hamilton, Ont., in 1883, Mr. McPherson settled at a spot about six miles southeast of the city, in what is now the Spring bank district. Mr. McPherson came as far as Maple Creek by the railway, but this was at that time the end of the steel, and from Maple Creek he walked to the spot where he settled. Remember Maurice Wall's sale on Thursday of next week.

H. K. Harvey paid Stacey a business call on Wednesday.

E. F. Harvey made a visit to Calgary on Wednesday.

Eva Moffatt was in Calgary this week where a portion was performed.

John Pearson, who at one time farmed near Claresholm, is here this week from Saskatchewan.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. H. Duncan on Thursday afternoon.

Wm. Moffatt, D. B. Vanhoon and Mrs. Vanhoon attended the funeral of Joseph McPherson in Calgary on Wednesday.

S. J. Egge, of Towson, N. Dak. who has had holdings in this vicinity, arrived this morning for a brief visit.

J. T. Kingsley has purchased the Red car which has been in use for a few months at the Police Jury Stable.

P. M. Abel addressed the Hazlebert Live Stock Association at a public meeting in the Hazlebert school house on Wednesday evening.

"Desirable Ratings for Dairy Cattle."

W. C. Blokhorn, formerly of Olds, Alta., has purchased the Gray White Poultry Farm from J. B. Boese and has taken possession.

He and Mrs. Blokhorn will make their home here.

FEED FOR SALE—200 ton oats, shelled and upland hay, excellent quality, good sheller, running springs, straw stacks. Apply Aubrey C. Watson, Meadow Creek, Alta.

T. A. Price is at Stacey on Wednesday supervising the shipping of a car of hogs. Shipment was made by train on Wednesday.

LOST—A gold locket, oval-shaped, with name "Louise" engraved on it. Finder will be suitably rewarded. Return to Jas. Clark store, Claresholm, Alta.

FOR SALE—I have a quantity of Western Dry Grass Seed for sale. Call A. No. 1, Apply to Freeman Anderson, 49-12-27, Claresholm, Alta. Phone 8116.

So very enjoyable was the "At Home" held in the Parish Hall last Tuesday afternoon that on December 22nd a similar function will take place at which the hostesses will be Mesdames R. E. Moffatt and T. Guy.

Chas. Cogswell, of Great Falls, Mont., is here this week. It is said that negotiations are in progress between U. Turpin and Mr. Cogswell for the purchase of Mr. Turpin's business by the latter.

In the list of appointments made recently, the popular chapter of "A" Squadron, 23 Alberta Rangers is appointed to be chaplain both in the army rank of Captain, the Rev. Harold Morton Henderson, of the 23rd Alberta Rangers.

WANTED—A girl or boy to learn the printing business under a very capable printer of wide experience. Wages are generally better in the printing business than in most other trades. A bright girl can learn the compositor's end of the business very readily and can soon command very good wages. Apply, Review Office.

W. L. Smith, of Grumman, was in Claresholm on Wednesday. Mr. Smith is arranging for a sale of his household effects, which includes some exceptionally fine longhairs and quartered oak furniture. The announcement of his sale which is on Dec. 1st will soon be out.

John Fraser and Ernie Buckingham have formed a partnership to engage in a general drying business here. They purchased the famous black team from Mr. Tillotson and have taken over the drying branch of his business.

FOR SALE—A team weighing about 2800, two wagons, a rack and harness for sale. $300 cash will take the lot. Owner's ill-health is reason for this sale being offered. Apply, H. H. Milton, first house north of Dr. Leary's former dwelling.

It is not too early for the merchants to begin their campaign of advertising for the Xmas sales. One merchant who recently opened up his Xmas stock has already sold it out and will have to stock up again. The early bird gets the cream of the trade.

STRAIGHT—Two of goldings, weight about 2000 lbs., one bay with two white hind feet, other dark-colored, both branded 4 over 8 on right hind, flunder will be suitably rewarded upon returning same to C. J. Kite, Claresholm, Alta. 36-38.

Chas. Norris was up to High River investigating a horse business there with a view to purchase. The presentation lately made to him by some of his friends here may induce him to reconsider his intention of leaving town, especially as it was of the interest taken in his future welfare by those friends.

"The Barrier" Nov. 25th

Many inquiries have been made as to the date upon which "The Barrier" is to appear here. The original intention was to have had this company show here on Nov. 1st but it became necessary to cancel that date and it is now fixed for Nov. 25th. "The Barrier" will be here under the auspices of the L. O. O. F. Lodge. Footfalls Lodge will stand sponsor for this production and will be affording the public of Claresholm one of the greatest pleasures they have ever enjoyed in the entertainment line. Folter announcement will be made next week. In the meantime bear the date in mind.

The Guild's "At Home"

The ladies of St. John Church had a very enjoyable afternoon last Tuesday from 3 to 6 p. m. at the Parish Hall, the occasion being an "At Home" at which Mesdames Mitchell and Harvey were the hostesses. About 25 ladies were present and a charming evening was an interesting part of the entertainment. Mrs. Godley won first place and was awarded a prize a beautiful brass jardiniere. Mrs. W. R. Lindsay won the second prize. Little tables were placed here and there and the individual tea service thereon made a very pretty display. The afternoon was very much enjoyed by the ladies present.

Whist Tournament Prizes

Next Thursday evening the whist tournament at the Parish Hall begins. The prizes for this series are a set of solid gold cuff links for the gentleman winner and a beautiful cut glass water pitcher for the lady winner. These prizes may be seen in the window of the local jeweller Mr. Godley. A general invitation is extended.

Ladies' Annual Bazaar

The ladies of the Church of England will hold their annual Bazaar in the L. O. O. F. Opera House on Thursday, November 27th. Fancy Work, Plain Sewing, Home Cooking and Candy Booths will be special features of this year's bazaar. Afternoon tea will be served. The people of this town will see in this bazaar an excellent opportunity for securing daily little gifts for the approaching Xmas season.

The Wm Moffatt Cup

A handsome trophy is being given by Wm. Moffatt, M. P. P., who is one of the Hon. Patrons of the Claresholm Curling Club, in the form of a cup which is to be played for by Grumman and Claresholm rinks. The particulars of the contest will be announced later. This trophy should be warmly contended for by the curlers of each of the two towns and as Grumman possesses some first rank curlers, the Claresholm "knights of the stone" will have a worthy foe.

An Alberta Hero Rewarded

Twenty-five dollars a month as a pension and a silver medal have been awarded by the Carnegie hero fund to the widow of R. Frederick Dayton living at Viking, Alta. Dayton lost his life the latter part of May, 1912 in saving William Kirkpatrick, a neighboring farmer, from death in a well. He was lowered into the well with a rope by his wife. Reaching Kirkpatrick, who lay crumpled 40 feet from the surface and unconscious from the fall, Dayton tied the rope around his waist and had the man hauled to the top. The rope was afterward sent down to Dayton, but he was overtaken by gas before reaching the surface and fell back in the well, being killed instantly. This heroic sacrifice happened in an out-of-the-way place, but in some way the details reached the hero fund commission, which made an investigation into the facts with the foregoing result.

A Long Walk from the North

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 10.—Alexander Nordberg, dominion land agent, stationed in Edmonton, has just returned from Fort McMurray, Alta. 350 miles north of here, walking 80 miles of the distance on the trail along the Athabasca river, reports that squatters are numerous in the district. The newcomers were attracted to the district by the discovery of gas, oil and asphalt and the coming of the Alberta & Great Waterways railroad, to be built from Edmonton to Fort McMurray under government guarantee. Conan Esmond, a business man of Edmonton who recently walked from Fort McMurray to Athabasca, 150 miles, in 10 days, accompanied by a husky peck dog, brought word that William Biggs, a pioneer saw mill operator, is seeking a mining outfit in the district. Fort McMurray to-day is one of the Hudson's Bay company's outposts, he said, but it will be an important community with the advent of the railroad.

What This Newspaper Needs

No merchant who has any regard for the success of his own business or for the prosperity of the town as a whole, should neglect to advertise. He has the competition of the mail order houses to face, and also of the dry stores. These concerns lose no opportunity of getting their advertising matter into every home in the country, and it is necessary for the merchant to counterbalance this by pushing his own wares in the same manner. This he can most effectively and cheaply do by advertising in his own home paper. People prefer to deal with a store that advertises. They size up a merchant by the character of his advertising, just as they size up a town by the appearance of its newspaper. A good newspaper is impossible without good advertising support.

A Commission on Municipal Credit

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of municipal affairs for Alberta is working on a plan for the appointment of a provincial commission on municipal credit, which will be submitted to the legislature at the next session in Edmonton in the event it is not taken up directly by the provincial council, as now planned. The commission would assist rural municipalities, of which there are 84 in Alberta at present, in marketing their bonds, at the same time checking expenditures for improvements in communities where there is no pressing need for them, or arranging for carrying out the work on a more conservative scale. The department of municipal affairs at present leads its approval of taxation of bonds. The effect of the new plan is that the taxpayers know exactly to what they are committing themselves.

First Extension Lecture Here

The first lecture in the series of University Extension lectures offered by the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta will be given in Claresholm on Saturday, Nov. 22nd. Tuesday, November 18, by William Hardy Alexander, M. A. Ph. D., Professor of Classics, whose subject will be "The City." An old Roman Town (Lectures to meet at Claresholm, a better understanding of early Roman history, through a study of one of its outstanding figures. He is viewed in various aspects, as a man, a soldier, and a statesman; all these parts of his career are illustrated by quotations and anecdotes. A running comparison is maintained between Cato and a prominent figure in English history who most resembles him, Sir Robert Walpole.

Wants Arrears of Argyle Taxes

A. H. Towell, the secretary-treasurer of the Rural Municipality of Argyle, will be at the Town Hall in Claresholm on Saturday, Nov. 22nd for the convenience of those who have not paid their taxes to the municipality. "As these taxes must be paid before the first of the coming year, Mr. Towell desires to meet at Claresholm those whose taxes are not paid. For those to whom Grumman is a mortgage point, he will be at the Town Hall, Grumman, on Saturday, Nov. 22nd.

Schedule for Provincial Debating League Out

The schedule for the provincial high school debating league which came to hand this week, places Claresholm School of Agriculture against Okotoks on Friday, Dec. 12th. The winner will meet either Medicine Hat or Lethbridge, according to the result of the debate between those two cities. This will take place on Jan. 19th.

Mrs. Hawkins' Sudden Call

Word was received here recently of the very sudden death of Mrs. W. A. to heart failure, of Mrs. Hawkins at St. John, Kansas. Mrs. Hawkins resided in Claresholm for some time and her daughter, Stella, is the wife of Harry Moore. Mrs. Hawkins was the sister of Harry Smith, who lives in this neighborhood. Sympathy is extended to the friends of the deceased in this bereavement.

Find Natural Gas Near Claresholm

While drilling for water at the farm of John Smith this week about 90 feet the drill opened up a vein of gas. The gas was brought under control and registered a pressure of six pounds. Mr. Smith's farm is about six miles from Claresholm.

Your Personal Invitation to the Formal Opening

A most cordial invitation is extended to the parents and friends of the students, to the farmers of the district, to the citizens of Claresholm and to everybody to visit the Claresholm School of Agriculture on the occasion of the formal opening of the school on Wednesday, Nov. 19. The school will be open for inspection in the afternoon and in the evening. Large public meetings will be held in the school auditorium. Among the noted speakers expected are Premier Sifton and the Hon. Duncan Marshall. Elsewhere in these columns direct invitation from the Minister of Agriculture direct to the public and Principal Stephen adds his own personal invitation through these columns. There should be a ready response from the public generally and a very large number of visitors should attend this opening. To see the work of the school in actual operation will do more to bring the people of this district in touch and sympathy with the purpose and educational value of these schools to the province than any amount of explanation and appeals. The advice of this paper to all is, go to the school, obtain correct ideas of the work being attempted, and then, as prominent speakers in the evening announce the ideas being striven for in these schools, and then form your opinion or pass your judgment but do not go with a mental bias that will prevent your seeing the good, the value of the education imparted to the whole country when the boys and girls who are receiving instruction at the school go out to their respective communities to pass on the help which they have received.

Students Organizing for Pleasure and Profit

The students at the Claresholm School of Agriculture organized a literary society last week. A. McNeil was elected president; Miss Snyder, vice president; F. Brown, secretary; Miss Schoof, treasurer; Mr. Stewes, Miss Whipple and Mr. White, executive committee. The students also have a dramatic society of which the officers are: H. McLean, manager; Milton Ward, stage director; Miss Strong, producer. The organization to arrange for athletic sport has Milton Ward as its president and Walter Harvey, secretary-treasurer. If satisfactory arrangements can be made with the Claresholm Rink Association, skating and hockey will be the winter sport. In case the Athletic Society is unable to secure the accommodation required at the local rink, it may take steps to secure a rink on the School property.

Lutheran Ladies Made Happy

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran Church is desirously proud of the success of the sale of work and entertainment which was held in the Fire-Mile School on Tuesday night. The Claresholm Band furnished the musical part of the entertainment and scored a success, as usual. One feature of the program provided much amusement. This was the guessing as to the number of beans in a jar with a prize of a blue quilt. The Paulsen and Olsen boys were tied in the toss up to decide the ownership of the quilt, the former won. Baskets filled with donations, including a new rug, were also on the program but also for the help they received from the band boys at the sale. The proceeds exceeded $75.

Large K. P. Bible Class

Last Friday night at the Coliseum Winipeg, one of the greatest final gatherings in the history of the city took place. The Knights of Pythias of the city have for the past month been arranging for a supreme Bible class. The supreme Bible class is a joint meeting of all the city lodges and conferring on a class of 5000 the rank of the order in the Knights of Pythias. The obligation in the rank is taken upon what is known as the Rathbone Bible. The Rathbone Bible is a Bible which was presented to Justice Henry Rathbone on his fifth birthday, and upon which subsequently on Feb. 19, 1894, he obligated the first seven members of the order in Washington. This Bible is in charge of the supreme lodge of records and seals, Fred E. Whetstone, of Minneapolis, Minn., who was present at the ceremonial and acted as prelate in putting the work on. The class is in honor of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, conferring in Winnipeg, August 4-14 1914 by its arrangements made in Denver last year, this being the second time in the order's 50 years history that they have assembled in Canada, having met in Toronto in the year 1886.

Show Appreciation by Presence

The first lecture in the series of Extension Lectures arranged by the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta will be given next Tuesday evening, Nov. 18th, in the auditorium at the Clareholm School of Agriculture, by Dr. Alexander, Professor of Classics. His subject, "Cato, an Old Roman Squire," should prove very interesting and a large audience of the citizens of Clareholm will afford the best proof of the wisdom of the selection of this point for the several lectures of the course.

True Nearer Home

The following is clipped from one of our exchanges and goes to show that the town allotted to possess several very short sighted business men. We have often been tempted to publish a list of the business houses in town which give the paper absolutely no patronage, but as it would be a knock at the town we have not yet done so. The list is as follows: below takes very plaud and sensibly.

WANTED
An offer from some town in South west Alberta, where the business men are interested enough in the progress of the town to support a newspaper. Some town where at least 75 per cent of the business houses believe in the unalterable fact that it pays to advertise.

At the present location of The Review there are eleven of the principal business houses who do not advertise consisting of: 3 lumber yards, 2 drug stores, 2 restaurants, 1 general merchandise, 1 clothing store, 1 harness shop, 1 machine shop and 1 butcher shop.

It is an unfortunate fact that the success or failure of a newspaper depends entirely upon the support rendered it by its patrons and patrons in newspaper parlance means advertisers.

To be uninitiated, the fact that a newspaper has all its pages full of printed matter, might indicate the corresponding prosperity and wealth of such a paper but on this point we beg to differ.

"In conclusion we wish to say that in our humble opinion we are not asking for anything unreasonable but, as the different business houses within the patronage due them from the surrounding country, so do we persist in our conviction the devil should receive his due.—Ex.

Formal Opening of Schools of Agriculture

The official opening of the Provincial Schools of Agriculture will take place next week. The opening exercises in connection with the Vermilion School will take place at Vermilion Monday, November 18th, and at the Clareholm, November 21st. The schools will be open for inspection during the afternoon and classes will be carried on in the different lines of instruction given at the school so as to show visitors the nature of the work undertaken. A meeting will be held in the evening and addressed by leading speakers in the province. The public are cordially invited to attend these opening exercises. Lecturers are being sent to the public men in the province, but every body is invited to attend, and will be made highly welcome. It is most important that a large number of farmers who are conveniently situated to these schools will make it a point to be present and see the kind of instruction work that is being carried on. There are now 125 registered pupils in actual attendance at the three schools, and a great deal of instruction is being shown in agriculture and education in the province by the farmers and farmer's sons.

The Review will be sent from now until Dec. 31st, 1914, at any new subscriber received for $1.20, the price of one year's subscription. Fourteen months for the price of twelve.

Why the Youth's Companion Should be in Every Family

Because it is unusual, and no other paper can supply the same kind of reading. The fact and fiction novel, and every line is fit to read aloud. A year of The Youth's Companion as it is to-day is of inestimable excitement and benefit to the family. In quantity, it provides more than any other American monthly periodical—and is more appreciated because it comes only two times a year instead of twelve.

The Companion as it is to-day, enlarged, and broadened in scope, including the Family Page, the Boys' Page and the Girls' departments, with eight splendid serials and 250 shorter stories, its accurate and impartial editorials, Science and Current Events, makes a volume of matter that touches every genuine interest of the family.

So carefully is it edited, so varied are its contents, that a family would be well supplied entertaining fiction, up-to-date information and wholesome fun, if no other periodical entered the house.

If you are not familiar with The Companion as it is to-day, let us send you sample copies containing chapters from Frank Little's popular Canadian serial "The Timber Trees," and the Announcement of new subscribers who send $2.25 for the fifty-two issues of 1914 will receive the remaining issues of 1913, and a copy of The Companion Practical Monthly Calendar and Almanac. The Youth's Companion, 114 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New Subscriptions Received at this Office.

Rod and Gun for November

Rod and Gun in Canada for November Publisher W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont., contains information as the leading Canadian magazine devoted to the interests of sportsmen. The game hunting in British Columbia is described in several well written and illustrated articles. "A Labrador Fishing Village" is descriptive of a Labrador fishing village. "My visit to an Alberta Trapper" details a successful day on the trapline. "How to Keep Game from Spoiling" contains some valuable information for the hunter of big and small game. "When Riley Did Harold" is a story of cruelty and terrorism of the famous Prairie League when all the world's big snailers had a try-out for the Championship. The regular departments are well maintained.

Prize List Calgary Poultry Show Oct

The prize list for the poultry show to be held in Calgary from November 25 to November 28, has just been received and contains a large number of interesting prizes for all classes of birds. Entries for the show are still coming into the secretary's office and it is every indication that the show this year will be the best in the history of the association. This will be the sixth annual winter show of the Calgary Poultry and Pot Stock association and it will also be the first annual show of the Alberta Provincial Poultry association.

Why Editors Worry

(Williamsville, N. D. Item)
We wish to apologize to Mrs. Orlan Orlan. In our paper last week we had a column, "Mrs. Orlan's Big Egg." The word we had ought to have used was a French word pronounced the same way but spelled differently. It means a delicious and is considered a very tasty word.

Stung Again.
"Here, drink this," said the great detective, and after the trembling victim had drunk that he ceased trembling and began to shake.
"Every night," he roared, "at exactly 11:59 I hear the voice, 'Beware! it says to me, 'Beware!'"
"Beware!" replied the shaking man. "It's important!"
"It can't be human," continued the shaking man, "because every door and window is locked and not a soul is in the room except my own."
"Strike at the voice with a club to-night," said the great detective, after a moment's reflection. "Send telegrams to the result."
At 11:57 that night the great detective received the following telegram: "Have killed the mosquito."—Philadelphia Times

FIRE PREVENTION

Manufacturers Take up a Worthwhile Cause—Excessive Waste in Canada From Fire

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association is continuing its propaganda for fire prevention which was organized a few months ago. The following timely paragraph is circulated by the Secretary of the new movement. "It is an open question whether the careless fool or the deliberate criminal does more damage by fire. Advancing seems to be with the fool, because he is everywhere gladly bringing down destruction, while the fire bug must seek about his deadly work stealthily, at weird hours and in awkward places. Chief among the fools who carelessly cause fires is the smoker. His blazing match is cast down still alight. His cigarette end falls into piles of paper or shavings. The burning salver of his trouser pipe descends into oil vats and barrels of powder. If the fool destroyed only himself, the world could bear his actions philosophically, but he usually causes death and men perish. In England great wealth was accumulated by a man who was allowed entrance to locate small tobacco stores opposite factory entrances and his fortune represented the loss of many fortunes by his brut or manufacturer. One would think that the smoker would hesitate to light his weed in the neighborhood of explosive liquids, but a recent report of the United States shows that, out of 1,650 fires occurring in places where benzene, gasoline and naphtha were stored, 50 were caused by the smoker and 135 by matches, the smoker's friends. Smoking should be absolutely prohibited in or about any Canadian factory and employer who violates this rule should be destroyed. If the rule became law, manufacturers could insure their other of these disasters could be reduced to a minimum. It is enforced there would be fewer fires, better work could be done, and the smoker would enjoy the weed more keenly in the evening, after a day's exertion."

If he changed the word "factory" to "school," or "suburban" to "household," the same rule would apply to all articles and a meeting for us all.

FOR MIXED FARMING

What a Prolific Farm Editor Says of the Canadian West

Mr. A. D. Penny, editor of "Farm Life" Chicago, writes his impressions of the Canadian West as follows: "Mixed Farming Country." "While grain raising, that is to say, wheat raising, will probably reach for a long time to come, the most important of Canadian farms, nevertheless, I was most favorably impressed with the opportunities offered to the man who wishes to make a comfortable living raising. I believe that with the possibilities for economical meat production, which this country affords to possess, the greater number of mixed farms will be found in beef and pork production and dairying. The risk will be found much less and the returns more than in grain farming. In the districts surrounding the towns of Dauphin, Humboldt, Prince Albert, Vermilion, North Battleford and Regina, the best conditions were adapted to stock raising and general farming. The natural browse grass and western rye grass make great growth here and provide economical feed in abundance. Timothy grows well and alfalfa is being experimented with, with good results. In fact, in the first two weeks of August we found pasture as green and as luxuriant as June meadows in the States. Hay is plentiful throughout the section and stock raising is found on ground barley, oats or brood wheat."

The development of stock raising in its infancy here, nevertheless, farmers are beginning in a small way and have already demonstrated that this line of farming brings in the most satisfactory returns in the long run. What is more, these farmers are building for the future and are laying the foundation for a permanent and progressive agriculture."

Good Vegetables Been. "I was greatly interested in the vegetable growing in the States. Barren Western Canada. Most of the common vegetables grow and flourish amazingly. With the exception of the tomato and sweet corn, common vegetable reach maturity. We saw cabbage, cucumbers, radishes, lettuce, pumpkins and squash equal to those grown in the States. ## A Test of Honor

It Recalled at Last on Him Who Made It

By STELLA ANDREWS

Copyright by American Press Association, Inc.

"It's my experience," said Paul Markham to his friend Tom Ellison, "that you can never tell what a woman is going to do."

"You mean a girl, a man must always be on his guard for fear of getting mixed up with her."

"Do you mean, Paul, that if you were married your wife would try to mix with your friend?"

"She might."

"And do you mean further that I should have to be on my guard to avoid treating you dishonorably?"

"Tom, you're the soul of honor, but wouldn't trust you or any other man I had an attractive wife who would make love to you?"

"Then all I have to say to you is that you don't know me."

The two friends were separated soon after this and did not meet again for several years. They corresponded for time, but Ellison drifted to South America, and they lost track of each other.

Three years ago Paul Markham came to New York on his way to Chicago. At the railway station he was making his way to the train when he was seen by a woman who was sitting on a bench and who looked at him with a look of surprise and interest.

"Tom?"

"Going on this train?" asked Paul hurriedly.

"Yes. Are you?"

"No. I'm here to see my manager."

"You don't mean to say that you are married?"

"Yes, usually marry some time, don't they?"

"You don't object to taking charge of a lady?"

"I'm for Chicago and would be only too glad of a companion, but I don't know if I can't find one who will suit me."

"Wedding cards? How should I know your address? But we've only time for the introduction. Come along."

They hurried into a car. Near the door Markham paused and said to his friend: "Wait here a moment. I wish to say a few things about you to my manager."

Ellison waited while Markham hurried to a lady sitting next to the door of the car, and said something to her. An ever-changing expression was observed through clear glass windows, and the chairs are enormous. Tom Ellison and the lady under his care, seated side by side, started, read the newspaper, and sat still, and thus the day of the journey passed peacefully.

The morning they breakfasted together in the dining car, still abiding by their original plan, and Ellison, sitting beside the wife of his friend, was surprised to find that she was a woman of such high character and refinement.

"What the deuce is the matter with you?"

"I'm for Chicago and would be only too glad of a companion, but I don't know if I can't find one who will suit me."

other feeling toward his old friend. He was not only surprised, but astounded. As the day wore on he was surprised with astonishment. Markham's wife was coming out to him with confidence, with emotions which, though they thrilled him, seemed altogether too sacred to be imparted to any one not dear and dear to her.

In a month Ellison was back in New York. He had not written Markham since his departure, but he had received a letter from Paul Markham to come with him to South America and was waiting for the steamer to sail. Ellison's wife was to be married to him across the old friend.

On entering his hotel one morning the clerk handed him a note. He looked at the superintendant and lost some of the color. It contained an invitation from Paul Markham to dine with him that evening, the steamer waiting with "Why didn't you write, old man? If it hadn't been for Winne I wouldn't have known anything about your movements."

So he went late the friend he had injured in thought if not in deed. How could she after all that had occurred between them have retained her husband to disconcert his arrival in New York? He thought over every possible excuse, and though there were positive, none would serve the purpose.

On his arrival at Markham's home he found a letter from "Tom, my wife" to the heart. "Come right in, old man. Winne's expecting you with the same pleasure as I am." He set out his guest into the drawing room, where he was greeted with a hearty handshake and a warm welcome.

"What the deuce is the matter with you?"

"Well, come into dinner," pursued the host. "I'm going to get it out of you, or the rest of you before we're finished."

Through the words struck Ellison with terror. Markham did not seem to consider the matter as serious. He had been on during the earlier years, evidently delighted at seeing his friend. Ellison appeared at once, and was seated as it were, sitting on a hot grin. Finally the host said with apparent seriousness: "Tom, you remember our conversation some years ago about a man being obliged to become of another man's wife?"

Ellison breathed an almost inaudible "Yes."

"And you posthumous the idea that you would ever have to struggle with yourself under such circumstances to free us honorably?"

From a face expressed agony and was red as a cock's comb.

"Well, it seems as though Winne had been tempting you and you had failed."

"Paul! Winne looked a command to desert."

"Now, see here, Winne didn't you on that journey to Chicago propose to go there to run away with you?"

"I told you that on business, but I never told that. I don't you?"

"Yes, but—"

"No, Tom, how did you receive the first shock?"

"I wasn't the fault. It was all mine. I failed Ellison."

"I wasn't any such thing. You're a man of honor. If it was the woman's fault, she's always a failure."

"I assure you, Paul," protested Ellison, "your wife was a lady, and I carried away by a passing emotion."

"My wife?"

"Yes, and a lovely wife you have."

"I have a wife? Not much! I wouldn't trust one of you out of my sight."

Ellison looked from one to the other in amazement. Winne was both blushing and laughing.

"This has gone far enough, Paul," she said. "Please explain."

"For heaven's sake," exclaimed Ellison, "let the out of this or I shall collapse."

"Well, old man," replied the host, "you do look a little better, but I don't see the fun I am entitled to at your expense. Know, then, that I remember our conversation about leaving the steamer to go with a friend's wife, and on meeting you at the station on the eve of your departure for Chicago I saw an opportunity to show you that I was right. I intended to let my sister as my wife and told her to go for you. She did it beautifully."

Words of persuasion stood out over Ellison's face. He took out a handkerchief and wiped his face, then he smiled a great deal, and said to his friend: "This was followed by a something between love and respect, and I was followed by a something on eating his dinner."

"You said Winne's name, 'never again will I lead myself to another of your amiable friends.'"

"Not to ask such to another man," was the exasperated reply.

"All I ask," said Ellison, "is that if the opportunity occurs you will do it all again."

"Anything you ask," replied the lady, "I will do it, if it is within the limits of my power. From now on, I know you can do it."

PROJECTS FOR HUGE TUNNELS

Include Connecting England and France, Also England and Ireland

London just now is seething with projects of gigantic tunnels.

The Prime Minister has just received a deputation of British members of the House of Commons.

who desire to see a tunnel project constructed between England and France, which would confer enormous trade benefits, and give both countries a new source of food supply in war time.

True, the cost of a double tunnel would be £100,000,000, but a channel project, assisted by the South-Eastern and Chatham and Dover Railway and French Western Railroads would really do that amount.

And Mr. Asquith has gone as far as to promise that the Committee of British Imperial Defence will give the project their most careful consideration, to see whether it can be so definitely approved by the British Government.

Encouraged by this, a group of Lancashire financiers has come forward and demanded that the question of a tunnel between England and Ireland should be revived.

They say there is no scientific reason why a tunnel should not be constructed between Liverpool and Kingston Harbor, and that this railway would do more to make the separation of Ireland from England impossible than would a dog house in London.

And in London itself, financiers are demanding that plans be originated in Berlin to run a tunnel from the city to the North Sea.

It would take twenty years to construct, cost some hundreds of millions of pounds, but it would give a channel and an Irish tunnel.

It would also give a channel and an Irish tunnel.

G. G. G. Co. Annual Report

Winnipeg Nov. 11.—Four hundred and fifty shareholders of the Grain Growers Grain Company gathered at the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau this morning for their annual meeting, and heard President T. A. Crover announce that the net profit on the year's business after paying off $30,000 on the operation of the Manitoba government elevators was $150,000. As the paid up capital of the company is now $12,000,000 the profits for the year are more than 25 per cent. The regular 10 per cent dividend was declared by the board of directors two months ago and the money distributed among the fourteen thousand and four hundred shareholders in the three prior provinces. Since the company began business in 1904 its profits have increased from $750 for the first year to the present figure.

The increase in the capital stock of the company during the past year was $90,000. The volume of business which passed through its hands exceeded $50,000,000, which places it at the top of grain companies doing business in Canada and makes it the strongest of the former commercial organizations on the continent so the president said. Mr. Crover announced that the Manitoba government had cancelled the company lease of government elevators in this province to take effect next August.

The company still has a cash reserve of $200,000 after incurring considerable of a loss on export business during the fourteen months since the last annual meeting, as the result, it was stated, of conditions on the way from Fort William to Europe.

The company expects shortly to have its own mills in operation in its 300,000,000-foot timber limit in British Columbia, through which the Grand Truck Pacific line has all been constructed, and it expects to be able shortly to sell lumber in our lots to local associations in the province, prices at 25 to 40 per cent. less than the present retail prices.

The president's report is being considered this afternoon, and business will be continued this evening.

Asked for particulars regarding the cancellation of the lease of the Manitoba government line elevators, but the supplementary information could be gathered from officials of the company. The contract was for a term of five years, but subject to one year's notice on either part. The formal notice was served by the government on the company last August. It is possible that the government has in view the sale of the elevators, but this is only a surmise, as no explanation of the cancellation was offered.

DOLLARS FROM MILK

The Cow as a Bread-winner Helps its Owner to Coin Money

In 1909 the representative of one of the largest condensed milk companies in the United States, interviewed the Town Council of Tillsonburg, Ontario, with a view to securing their cooperation in the establishment of a milk factory in the town. It did not take the live merchants of Tillsonburg long to realize that the five or six thousand dollars, which the company proposed to distribute to the milk producers around Tillsonburg each month, would soon go into circulation over the counters of their stores. As one merchant put it: "The increase in the price of milk would enable a farmer to buy at least one hat per year more for his wife in addition to many other equally necessary things."

On the first of October, 1909, the factory opened its doors and 21,000 pounds of milk went into the condensers. After four years operation it is interesting to note the effect of this industry in the neighborhood. Prior to the establishment of the factory farmers had been getting from 50c to $1 per cwt. for milk. In 1910 the price had risen to $1.15 per cwt. The price has risen continuously. The price is now $1.65 per cwt. with prospects of going higher next year. From receipts of only 21,000 pounds from a few patrons the factory has increased its capacity until it now takes care of 313 patrons and 181,000 pounds of milk in one day.

The industry in question, The Borden Condensed Milk Company, had hitherto been rated entirely in the United States, but the tariff, coupled with its growing trade in Canada, were the factors which induced it to locate a branch in Tillsonburg. The Company's scientific methods and its educational efforts to improve cattle raising with a view to better milk production, have been of tremendous value to the country. Cows have gone up in price. Where formerly an ordinary grade Holstein sold at $40 to $50 it now brings from $60 to $100 and there has been a corresponding increase in good milkers and pure breeds.

Some interesting figures are available from some of the patrons. One farmer from eight cows during eight months time received $10,571.16 in cheques from the Borden factory. Certain parts of the Western country are eminently suited for dairying, and there is no doubt that within a few years condensed milk factories will be established at different points in the West, thus creating a profitable home market for milk and cows.

SHOULD BE GROWN AT HOME

C.P.R. Vice-President Would Change Farming Methods in the West

In the course of a very interesting speech before the Regina Board of Trade the other day, Mr. George Bury, Vice-President and General Manager of the C.P.R., made some very interesting remarks. After discussing the policy of the Company as it concerned Western Canada generally, he emphasized his belief in the home market idea in the following words: "Canada imports too much. The imports into Canada for the year ending March, 1912, amounted to $675,000,000, without counting coal and bullion, and of this amount, the articles we import raw material for which lies right at our own door, amount to over $300,000,000. Just think of us importing sixteen and a half million dollars' worth of fruit, only a small proportion of which cannot be grown in this country. Imagine us importing three and a quarter million dollars' worth of vegetables and thirty-three and a half million dollars' worth of wool and its manufactures, when we consider that the sheep industry lends itself particularly to the development of the West. A report published in 1911 disclosed the fact that in Canada there were 2,100,000 head of sheep, while in the United States there were 11,000,000 and in Australia 9,000,000, and even in Great Britain 32,000,000. Also, just think that 11,000,000 bushels of flax were produced in Canada in 1911, all the straw of which was destroyed. This straw, properly manipulated, would have produced 300,000 tons of commercially splittable flax fibre, which at Canadian prices, would have yielded something like $60,000,000 at the present time. Western Canada, with a population of two million people, is importing a large proportion of its necessities from the desirability of the Western Board of Trade working out a policy for the development of water power in Saskatchewan, so that the electric energy could be supplied cheaply to farmers.

Solution of the Bread Puzzle

There were a different number of Barber's Buns in each square of cross and as you know the squares across and the squares running up-right each totalled 13 buns. The question was how many buns should there be in the centre square so that the three upright squares and the three squares a row to itself. The answer is 1 as shown above. The little word "ouch" makes all the difference. If each had been put in the answer of course would be 9. The reason we have used this little puzzle to advertise
